

Rain Barrel Artist List

APOLLONOVA

Contact person: Beth Ciborek Email: WWW.APOLLONOVA.COM Phone: 330-608-4256

Beth Ciborek does not plan her art work but rather just allows it to flow natural. Her paintings are organic and nature influenced. Artists such as Andy Goldsworthy, Fredrick Hundertwasser and North West Coast American Indians have played a significant role in developing her artistic ideas. She displays this in her featured barrel "Barrel of Monkeys". Check out Beth's art work at WWW.APOLLONOVA.COM.

Lara Dolin

Contact person: Lara Dolin Email: lk_dolin@yahoo.com Phone: 330-316-0460

Lara Dolin is a part-time painter who's rain barrel "Four Seasons" was influenced by photos she has taken on her personal weekend trips while visiting friends. This barrel showed great detail while capturing the beauty and the feelings of the moment. The barrel she submitted showed all four seasons at different locations in Ohio. Lara reestablished the natural, cultural, historical and recreational influences of our state.

Sofia

Contact person: Kyle Valentini Email: mothergirth@aol.com Phone: 330-343-0292

Kyle Valentini attended The Columbus College of Art and Design. she started a non-profit "Society of Independent Artists" to give other artists a venue to show case their work. Sofia brings artists together for the purpose of fellowship, education and fun. Kyle likes to address themes pertaining to family, language and the environment. Check out Kyle's art work and many others at www.societyofindepentartists.com.

Lisa Walker

Contact person: Lisa Walker Phone: 330-863-2683

Lisa Walker is a part-time painter who's barrel "Country Living" was a highly detailed painting with a classic country landscape. She expressed her art work by showing great detail in the sunset, clouds and even the texture in the tree bark. It displays the panoramic views of an everyday farm. Now you can enjoy the scenes of country living right in your own yard.